

SCHULER NORTH AMERICA

KEVIN McALLISTER
PRESIDENT

Under McAllister's leadership, Schuler surpassed a record $400M in sales orders last year in North America—despite challenging market conditions. This includes Schuler's largest new-market order for the kitchen and bath industry. McAllister's career of near forty years began as a Control Systems Engineer with a customer, prior to joining ABB. McAllister's unique perspective of being a customer established his visceral mindset for value proposition and strategic partnerships—resulting in profitable growth at every regional and global location he's managed. His reputable performance in leading businesses, repositioning brands, implementing P&L strategies, and reshaping company cultures earned him multiple CEO Awards. McAllister is a proud Canadian-American with dual citizenship. He currently resides in the Greater Detroit Area with his wife of thirty years. Their daughter lives in Chicago, Illinois.
